PREFACE.

In offering the inhabitants of Lambton a Gazetteer and Business Directory for the County, the publishers are well aware of the folly of making any claim to perfection in giving such an accumulated mass of statistics. Errors will enter into the most carefully prepared mathematical calculations and be afterwards discovered to the annoyance of the most profound investigators. That some may be discovered in the present work is quite possible, but it has been the effort of the publishers to make such, as rare an occurrence as possible.

The difficulty of collecting and arranging the material for such a work so so to make each item appear in its proper place; the many sources from which such information is collected, and the liabilities of these sources to be a little preserved, will, we trust, be sufficient apology for any inaccuracies that may possibly appear.

The publishers have also to thank the gentlemen in different localities who have kindly assisted in furnishing statistics and useful information concerning be early settlement and subsequent growth of this important County, information which adds greatly to the interest and value of the book; and also to the business population who have so liberally contributed to make the work remanderative as a speculation as well as beneficial to themselves.

Since the completion of the two lines of railroad, viz., the Great Western in 1855, and the Grant Trunk in 1859, things have begun to wear another appearance in Lambton. Vast fields are now being cleared up, the timber not burnt on the spot as formerly, but made into square timber staves or cordwood, as the qualities may indicate to be most profitable, This gives winter employment to many. and the land is easily cleared up for the harrow in the spring, and ready to yield to industry the legitimate fruits of the soil. Thus the commercial and ag-Lambton at the present time show every Judge of the future by the light of these indications, there is every reason to hope, that the time is not far distant, when Lambton will compare favorably with any other county in the Province, in point of agricultural wealth and commercial importance.

The Municipal affairs of the county were first managed by the old District Council, formed in 1840, which comprised the counties of Essex, Kent and Lambton, forming what was then called the Western District. A representative was sont from each townships, or in some instances where the Township were but thinly settled, two were united, for Municipal purposes, and delegates sent according to the number of residents. The general place of meeting was at Sandwich, and many of the delegates were obliged to travel the distance on Their meetings were held semiannually. During this state of affairs, the question, with the settlers, was not, who, out of the many candidates offering will we select to represent us, but District Councilwhich were elected. It was The latter has been carried on found that this mode of local Legislature was neither condusive to the development of the country, nor satisfactory to the people. The spirit of local interests ran so high that but little could be effected in the way of encouragement to general inprovements. If a road was asked for in one section or county, there were two to oppose the project from other quarters, and as a matter of consequence, it was refused, and thus improvements were retarded. This state of affairs lasted till 1852, when the District was superseded by the Township and County Councils; but although this was undoubtedly an improvement on the former yet it does not meet all the difficulties that attended that system, ricultural interests of the county of Sectional jealousies are not entirely removed. The North against the South, Indication of progress; and if we may and both against the Town, have prevented any very liberal county improvemeats, so that Lambton is yet the farthest back in public improvements of perhaps any county in the Province: and if we except the Oil Springs and Wyoming, and the Sarnia and Florence Plank Roads, which were brought into existence by the development of the oil trade-both of which were assisted by the County to the amount of $1,000 cach there are but few marks to tell of the existence of that body in this county for the past twelve years. The principal part of the public improvements have been made by Township Councils, and these on a very moderate scale. But while improvements have been retarded, the county has been comparatively free of debt, and at the present time its credit stands equal to, if not higher than any of the adjacent counties.

In politics, party spirit has usually can high in this county. For soveral years it was united, for legislative purprises, with the County of Kent. It was first represented in Parliament by Mr. who can be induced to take upon them- Wood, of Chatham. Its next represenselves that duty; and in many instances, tutive was the Hon. J. B. Wm. Cayley. He defeated Mr. Cayley in Huron, and, on returning, Sound that a delegation, which met from both Kent and Lambton, had decided to gun Mr. Brown, against Messrs. Larwell and Rankin. Mr. Cameron opposed this choice, and took the stump Fofor Mr. Rankin, which offended many of his reform friends to such a degree that they never returned to his support, and when, at the next election, he took up the gauntlet against Mr. Brown, he was, as we have just said, defeated. Mr. Brown represented Lambton until 1857, when he was elected for the City of Toronto.

Mr. Cameron was again called into the field as a candidate, and was opposed by H. F. McKenzie, Esq., of Sarnia, the contest being carried on with great spirit and energy by both parties. The majority of those who had formerly supported Mr. Brown united their efforts to seeure Mr. McKenzie's election. Money was freely spent on both sides, but Mr. Carmeron was returned by a large majority and retained the seat till the summer of 1860, when he was called to a seat in the Upper House to represent the St. Clair Division. Lambton was thus again without a representative, and at the succeeding election the contest wabetween H. F. Mackenzie of Sarnin, and John Dobbyn a farmer and humber mer-

Ho, however, only retained the seat for four months, when it was again rendered vacant by his acceptance of a Judgship, and a writ for another election was issued; The claims for the seat were contested by Alexander Vidal, Esq., manager of the Bank of Upper Canada in Sarnia, and F. Davis, Barrister, of the same place; the former in the interest of the liberal party, and the latter as the nomince of the Reform Convention, Mr. Vidal was elected by a majority of 322.

Mr. Vidal's election unlike any that ever preceded it, in the County, has given general satisfaction to all parties, even those who labored most assiduously to prevent it, were among the first tocongratulate him on his success, and they are few and of but little note who maintain an opposite position.

In this county-as through the Province generally—the distinctions between political parties are not marked by legslative measures so much as by personal preferences and what is usually called "party distinctions." The measures contended for by one party are at a fac simile of the doctrines adhered a by the other, and each seems to vio with the other in their attachment to the british Constitution, and in their devo-.ion and loyalty to the British Crown,

John Kennedy - Rawlings

The settlement of this Township was commenced as early as the year 1833, but for some ten years the progress was greatly retarded. This proved very discouraging to the few who first attempted "life in the bush," and many of them yielding to the discouragements, left their homes and improvements to seek a shelter in a more habitable region. These beginnings in the bush that were thus deserted formed beautiful starting points for future settlers. The first settlers appears to have chosen the southeast and north-east corners, or what is now called Arkona and Brewster's mills. A third settlement was early commenced on the lake shore near Kettle Point, or the Indian village. The above remarks apply more particularly to this settlement.

In these early days such a luxury as a cleared road was out of the question. Travel was altogether performed by oxsleds, the only guide being the "blaze" on the trees.

In the year 1840, there was a public grant of forty-four dollars, appropriated to opening the second concession, from the Warwick town line to Pine Hill, or what is now called Widder. the township was first set off as a separate municipality, and on the 4th of January in that year a meeting was held at Townsend's mill, near the south-east corner of the township, to appoint a Town Clerk, an Assessor, Collector and representative to the District Council.

The result of this organization was, that during the year the sum of $366 65 was received from the Treasurer of the District as wild land tax. This made quite an improvement on the above mentioned road in the way of chopping, clearing, and making crossway.

of settlers, but at last they came, and in greater numbers than could conveniently be accommodated. A house of entertainment had become a necessity, and Mr. Nial Eastman, one of the first settlers, opened his house for the accommo dation of strangers. This was near the present site of Arkona village. Hilborn opened a small store near the same place; a shoemaker and Blacksmith soon followed, and shortly after a small frame store was erected by Mr. L. Schooley. This was the origin of the now respectable village of Arkona. The township was owned by the Canada Company, who leased it to the settlers on a ten years term, with the first offer ofsale. The price was always exorbitantly high, but as the land was good, and only the interest on the upset price required during the lease, many ventured on the bargain, and at the end of the term in order to save the improvements made, were obliged to borrow money at ten, twelve and fifteen per cent. to take out their deeds. This of course doubled their yearly rental and added seriously to their already heavy burdens. Many having struggled with such difficulties till their mortgage became due, were at last forced to relinquish their claim. The same state of things has obtained in nearly every part of the Canada Company's claims; so much so that that institution is commonly spoken of as the "curse of Canada."

The greater portion of Bosanquet is land of the first quality; a loamy clay prevails in the east, and a calcareous soil, in the west. On some farms along the lake shore, wheat has been raised for fifteen years in succession, without any sign of deterioration. This, to any practical farmer will at once attest the value of the land. The northern part of the township is low, sandy, and, compared with the rest of the township, almost barren for agricultural purposes. It is only valuable for its timber. Large quantities of red and white pine have been obtained for lumber, shingles and building purposes during the past ten It was some four or five years after years. In the other parts of the townthis, before there was any great influx ship, hickory, elm, and oak timber have

A good Agricultural Society is doing much to forward the interest of the farmer, and many are availing themselves of its advantages for the improvement of their farm stock.

The annual exhibitions of the Society have been attended with very satisfactory results, and already a spirit of competition and enterprise is at work among the farmers, which augurs well for the future of this important part of the County of Lambton.

John McKeuno James Nelson D Downie D. McLean

This township lies south of Warwick, and north of Euphemia; is bounded on the west by Enniskillen, and on the east by Metcalf, in the County of Middlesex.

The land in this Township is quite equal in quality to any in the County, or we might say in the Province. It is what is called a clay loam-high and It stands at number one for rolling. wheat. It is well timbered; much walnut has been taken out of the township, and at present large quantities of oak and elm are taken out every winter. Beech, maple, walnut, oak and elm are the principal timbers in this township. and all grow to a great height, which is as good a proof of the qualities of the There is a grist soil as can be given. and saw mill, owned by Mr. Breman, not far from the centre of the township; both are driven by water power, taken from the Sydenham river.

In 1854, Mr. McKeune built a very large steam saw mill and lathing machine, which proved very profitable for a few years, but since the financial crisis of 1857, has been a losing speculation. Mr. McKeun, now entertains an idea of removing the mill to the Manitoulin Island, where he hopes to make it pay.

Apart from these two centres of attraction there is no other instance of a village in this township, although it has been in progress of settlement for thirty years. A considerable quantity of the land is yet held by the Government, and much of it by speculators, which is the greatest barrier to the settlement of any place.

This Township is regarded as the most obstinate to settlement of any in the county. It contains the largest tract of unbroken forest in this or perhaps any county to the east of it in Upper Canada. The land is not worse than many other townships that have been well settled. The great difficulty with this seems to have been the land getting into the hands of speculators at a distance, the result of which is that there are nearly sixty square miles of a dense forest where the track of man is scarcely The only settlement yet effected is on the southern side of the township; is on the southern side of the township; Chamberlain —, lot 22 con 12 f and here we find the improvements and Childs Joseph. lot 16 con 13 f state of society equal to any other part | Childs William lot 16 con 13 f of the county. Large improved farms of splendid land are annually turning their wealth into the pockets of thrifty farmers, and everything going on show that all the land wants is the hand of industry, judicially applied, to make it yield the expected harvest.

The timber is of good quality. Oak and elm prevail, and has for years been a prolific source of wealth to the settlers on the south. The Sydenham river affords a convenient shipping port along nearly the whole southern boundary.—Maips of the largest burden have been loaded with timber and staves for occun transit, and the foreign market for all kinds of grain and produce is open to luvite the settlement of the township.

This township is situated in the centre the county, surrounded on all sides dense forests, and, till the discovery the celebrated oil-beds, or rather till working of the said beds commenced rdly making any progress in settleint or improvement. We speak thus the general: there are, of course, ex tions. On the western side of the vnship there have been a few firstss farmers, who for a number of years vo kept pace with other more favored alities. Among such, those occupya prominent position are Messrs orge McPherson, M. Murphy, Stew-, Stonehouse, McKorkindale, Hall, II, Barwise, Brichen, Dawson, and intgomery. These men appear to ve supplied in energy and calculation at they lacked in natural advanes; and having met the difficulties bush life with a bold front, they have w the satisfaction of seeing the reward their labors in rich farms, thriving hards, good frame buildings, and tter than all, a character established, ted for sobriety, industry, and indom-Their numbers were so ble energy. y, that anything in the shape of public provement-such as leading roadss not been attempted till lately.

The first thing that brought the townlp into notoriety was "the oil," which s since given a fresh impetus to all her branches of industry. Farming s taken a start, and is likely to keep up for some time.

P tot some time.

The home market will be more than flicient for the supply for some time come.

The coopering business has created a arket for almost any amount of staves; id the opening of the Wyoming and I Springs plank road has made a marter for timber. improve their land, with the prospect clear and the road short to comfortable. if not affluent, homes. The only leading roads in the township as yet is the one above mentioned and the Sarnia and Florence plank road, which intersects the town line between Moore and Enniskillen about the 8th concession of the latter, and is continued to the Oil Springs, a distance of about eight miles. The County road, as it is called, is a continuation southward of the Wyoming and Oil Springs plank road, and is cleared out till it strikes the township of Dawn, through which it is continued to the village of Dawn Mills, on the south. ern boundary of the county. What the township now requires is another lead ing road, from east to west, with cross-. ings at intervals to intersect the railroad. This can hardly be hoped for till a large quantity of the land changes hands, and the speculators that now hold it are replaced by men who will follow the example of the old pioneers, and seek to make their fortune by hone. $ labor and legitimate business transactions-men whose prosperity will be the prosperity of their township and the general advancement of their country.

This township lies in the south-east corner of the county, bounded on the cast by Middlesex, and on the south by Kent. It has the lightest and most easily cultivated soil of any township in the county. The south branch of the Sydenham river runs in a south-westorly direction through it, passing out at the south-west corner. The banks of the river are high, at a distance from the stream, leaving beautiful flats nearly the entire route. The timber is of good quality; white ash, oak, walnut, elm, and maple prevail. The farming operaions of Euphemia are carried on with a considerable amount of enterprise. The Dobbyns, Moorehouses, and Bobars are among the leading farmers. The township has been in process of settling for over 30 years, and the old settlers have very interesting tales to tell of their early life, some of them having spent several years among the Indians, who at the time occupied a large portion or the south and west part of the townwhip: but, as in most other parts, they have gradually yielded up their claims to the "pale faces," whose ploughshares are now desecrating their fathers' graves.

The township appears to have successfully struggled against the common barrior to progress, "bad roads," and almost in spite of them to have succeeded in its progressive march. It can scarcely be credited with an outlet to market til^l the completion of the Great Western Railway, Newberry being the nearest atation. The distance from Sarnia, the county town, via Wallaceburg, which is the only travelled road, is over 60 miles. Some aspiring gentlemen have long entertained the idea that Euphemia and Its capital, the village of Florence, would ultimately be the nucleus of a new county; but as soon as the plank road Burr Michael, lot 30 con 7 f from Sarnia is completed, it will be Burr Joseph, lot 31 con 2 f brought within 30 miles of Sarnia, which will set the above project far in the future, if it does not explate the idea altogether.

R. FLECK, Esq., Reeve. J. F. Baby C. S. Duncan Geo. Needham G. B. Johnston

This is probably the best settled and most improved township in the county. Situated as it is on the river St. Clair, it has always had the advantage of a ready market; and such an accommodation is always marked by corresponding progress.

The township has been in process of settlement for over thirty years. During the year of the Canadian rebellion-1337-38-there was a military station about a mile below the present village of Mooretown. Whether this was any special advantage in giving an impetus to the progress of the place, we need not stop to enquire; but it is certain that from that time till the present a gradual but healthy progress has marked the omrse of the farming community; and townships in this progressing county.

The land is of the first quality on the north and west sides of the township, while the banks of the Bear Creek have been proved to be admirably adapted for all kinds of cereals, green crops, and fruit. Many of the farmers in this locality are among the first exhibitors at the county shows. Messrs. Duncan, Brown, Johnston, Payne, and others are gentlemen whose names deserve honorable mention for their successful energy in showing what a farm, with proper management, is capable of producing, not only as samples for annual exhibitions, but also for the general amount of annual returns, and the gradual but certain attainment of competence and wealth.

The Municipal Council of this township has been more liberal during the past few years in expending money for roads and ditches than any other municipality in the county; and there is no doubt but this liberal public policy has in a great degree been conducive to the general progress which is everywhere observable. It is certain that an improvement in any direction has a ten-Moore now ranks as one of the foremost dency to promote the same in every adincont department; and when a public thoroughfare is opened, and the land supplied with good leading ditches, others to intersect these will soon be made by private effort, and a whole range of country be largely benefitted and improved. So it has been in Moore; and while the agricultural interests in other townships have been flagging so much; that it was difficult to get up even an apology for an annual show, in Moore it was generally admitted that in this respect they were ahead of the county at the Exhibition in 1863.

Brown Robt jr, lot 10 con 5 f Brown John, lot 12 con 10 in the surface George, lot 52 front f Burkland Richd, lot 70 front Burkland Richd, lot 70 front Burr James, lot 15 con 8 f Butler James, lot 14 con 8 f Callum Donald, lot 17 con 11 Callum Duncan, lot 16 con 8 f Cameron Angus, lot 15 con 8 f Cameron Angus, lot 15 con 8 f Cameron Angus, lot 15 con 8 f Cameron Donald Lot 20 con 9

We cannot leave this part of our sketch without recommending the liberality of Moore municipality to others in the county, being well satisfied that a judicious expenditure of money for the improvement of the soil will always be attended with remunerative results.

D. NESBET, Esq., Reeve. John Anderson Wm. Maxwell - Jardine

This township takes its place alongside with those whose settlement was attended with many difficulties in early Many of the first pioneers are still living, and have now the satisfaction of seeing, as the result of their hard labours, good farms and comfortable homes for themselves and families. The township is bounded on the north-west by Lake Huron, and has a coast of some ten miles in length, but destitute of anything like a harbour. The land is high, rolling, and generally a heavy cay. In the south and east it is somewhat lighter, parts of it inclining to sand.

The first settlement was made on the lake shore, something over thirty years ago. T. L. Crooks, Esq., R.N., or, "The Old Commodore," as he is familiarly cilled by his friends and beneficiaries, was one of the first settlers. The Messrs. Hill, Blunden, and Jones are among those who can tell interesting stories of the trials of pioncer life, and are all now safely through such difficulties, and stand out as landmarks in the progress of settlement and civilization. The sec md line of Plympton, counting from the south, is perhaps the best cultivated part of the township. On the Egremont road, which runs from Errol to the village of Warwick, there are some splendid farms, Messrs. Fisher, Kennedy, and others, are deserving of honorable mention in this neighborhood.

1: CAMPBELL Esq., Reeve. – Graham Ed. Kersev Sailh J. D. Eccles

This township I'es south of Bosanquet, on the eastern side of the county, bounded on the west by Plympton, and on the south by Brooke. 'The Egremont, which is the oldest travelled road in the county, intersects it from west to east. and is usually called the London and Sarnia road. The land is rather lighter, on the whole, than Bosanquet, but is generally of a first-class character for farming purposes. The north branch of Bear Creek has its rise near the northeast corner of the township, and flows in a south-westerly direction through it.-The land on the banks of this creek is generally lighter than farther back. Situated on this screen are the Auld's Mills, about two miles from the village of Warwick. These comprise a saw and grist mill, oatmeal factory, carding, falling, and cloth-dressing, altogether forming an important de, ot of indastry and a very great convenience to the surrounding country. The villages of Warwick and Watford are situated in this township. The former is the oldest in the county. " As far as local improvements, in the way of clearing and builling, are concerned, Warwick is among the first lownships in the county. There are large farms, better buildings, and more brick ouses in Warwick than in any offier township in the county, and, we might almost say, than half the remainder of the county taken together. Among those who tead leguen improvements may be mentioned the Messrs. Cutler, Hoover, Stephenson, McPheson, Thompson, Thomas, Eccles, Elliot, Campbett, Rogers, Ke say, Kingston, Kenward, Jagle, and others, men who fort of positions they have rightly carned often he carries off the prizes in such and well deserved. One branch of arm-articles at the county shows.

ing industry appears to have been sadly neglected in Warwick. Cons'dering its age and other advantages, the culture of fruit has been strangely neglected by a large portion of the farmers. // Another thing in which they have been negligent is the making of roads. Very little money has yet been expended on public roads, and there is not much prospect of a change in this direction, as the locality is getting so well seitled that the statute labor is now nearly equal to the task of keeping the roads in good repair.

The only source of natural wealth in the township is the timber, which, since the opening of the G. W. R. has yielded a large annual reveaue to the farmers in the Vicinity of Watford. An attempt was made, which proved partially successir, to obtain salt on the flats of the Bear C.eek, in the village of Worwick. The design was at first to sink for oil: but this was soon abandoned, when after penetrating the rock-to a considerable distance, a brackish fluid was obtained, supposed to contain 10 per cent. of common salt.

A. R. Tingston, Esq., an Irish gentleman of large property in the township, and plenty means at his disposal, took the hint suggested by the former discovery, and placed a steam engine at a mill on his property, about a mile from the village, and penctrated the rock to the depth of 500 feet without any signs of either salt or o'. We hear that he has some idea of pushing his enterprise still farther; but are not/particularly informed on the subject.

There has been a good agricultural society in the township for several years, and, as is usual wherever the like is found, much benefit is derived from the same. The men who tal; e most interest in it have profitted largely by its operations. Among these we may mention, without fear of offending others, Mark Hagle, Esq. His pilde have success ity contended with the appears to show itself in having the best privations of pioneer lie, and are now horse, the best Devon cattle, and the in a position to take the case and com- best hogs, in the township; and very

ROBERT AULD, Proprietor,

ALVINSTON,

The rucleus of a village in the southeastern part of the township of Brooke, on the travelled road from Watford to Florence, where it crosses the Bear Creek or Sydenham river, whose banks at this point are very high. The land in the surrounding country is very fine, and as there is no village or business stand nearer than ten miles, there is no doubt but Alvinston may yet be a place of some importance. At present there are two taverns, one store, and a grist and saw mill, generally known as Brenman's Mills. Mr. J. Benner is post-Mr. W. Brennan has kept a minster. house of entertainment for some years, and is very attentive to his guests.

ARKONA.

A village in the south-east corner of the township of Bosanquet, situated about 35 miles from London, and the same from Sarnia; ten miles north-west of Adelaide village, and six miles from Widder station, on the Grand Trunk Railway. It is situated in the centre of a splendid farming district, and is noted for its clear, healthy situation, and for the social and enterprising character of its inhabitants. The population is about 400, made up of all classes, and nearly all the principal creeds. There are four churches, occupied by six congregations. The churches belong to the Baptists, Wesleyan Methodists, Episcopul Methodists, and Roman Catholics, the Episcopalian congregation occupying the Wesleyan chapel, and the Presbyterians the Episcopal, which shows the liberal and catholic spirit that prevails among the people.

The inhabitants are generally soler, intelligent, and industrious, and the place is yearly rising in importance.—
The manufacturing interests are well represented by men of the right stamp. The foundry and agricultural implements manufactory, owned and directed by Messrs, McCollom and Cutler, is an establishment that receives, and well deserves, the patronage of the surrounding country. It supplies a want that was long felt in that part of the county, and we have a right to add that their work, in all branches, is of a first-class Mr. McCollom has taken the order. first prizes for his work in ploughs and harrows at the county shows. advi., page 31.) The Messrs. Dickinson have for the past three years supplied a want that was long felt by the farmers in carding, fulling, and cloth dressing (see advt., page 89); and within the last year another establishment of the same kind has been crected, in which it is proposed to have spindles and looms in operation, which will, of course, greatly add to the importance of the place.

The mercantile interests have been well represented by Messrs. Schooley, Brown, and Eastman. Latterly, Mr. Cornell and Mr. Tully & Co. have added to the number. In point of quality and variety of stock, Mr. Brown's establishment will compare favorably with any of the Sarnia stores. Mr. Eastman also keeps a large and varied stock, and Mr. Tully, on the same street, does a very nice little business. (See advts., pp. 30-Mr. Langel, on the same street, keeps a first-rate tailoring establishment. (See advt.. page 29.) H. Howe commands the cabinet-making interest, and does it in good style. He is represented on page 30;

Taking Arkona all for all, there are few villages in the province not on line of railway or water communication that can compare with it in point of internal wealth and importance to the surrounding country.

CAMLACHIE.

A station on the Grand Trunk Rallway, 9 miles west of Forest, and 14 miles from Sarnia. This station was formed by the enterprise of Mr. Duncan McDonald, of Sarnia, who presented the G. Mr. McDonald has a store on the place, in which he A tayern, blackkeeps the post-office. smith and wagon shop are being erected, and, from the large extent of good country that surrounds it, there is no doubt but it will make a very important station in a short time.

ERROL.

A village on Lake Huron, some 12 miles above Sarnia. This place has made but little advancement during the past 10 years. It was formerly a station on the travelled road from Sarnia to London. This was nearly 20 years ago. It subsequently became a stopping place on the Lake Shore road, but for the past two or three years there has been no tavern or place of entertainment; and the distance between Sarnia and Hillsboro', some 20 miles, is now destitute of such accommodation, and is travelled without a rest. is but one store, kept by Mr. T. B. Leigh; one blacksmith, and a wagonmaker, which, with a few private dwellings and the post-office, make up the village.

This village is beautifully situated on the banks of the Sydenham river, in the south-east corner of the township of Euphemia. Its distance from Sarnia, via Wallaceburg and Sombra, is about 60 miles; from Chatham, 30; and from Newbury station, on the G. W. R., 9 It is one of the oldest, and perhaps the largest, village in the county. Population from 400 to 500. churches, a good district school, five stores, and a number of mechanics' shops, among which Mr. Hersen's fanning mill factory is deserving of notice as being the only one in the county .--(For adet., see page 93.) Florence has long had the reputation of being an active and aspiring little place. The leading men, Messrs. Kerby, Morrison, Gunne, Young, Hersen, and others, appear to have made the elevation of Florence a central idea, and at one time the making it a capital for a new county was a very popular measure. As wo have noticed in our sketch of Euphemia, the extension of the Sarnia and Florence plank foad will bring it within 35 miles of Sarnia, instead of 60, as at preent. Florence is in the centre of a well settled and fertile farming country, but, being nine miles distant from Newbury. the nearest station on the G. W. R., its prospects of becoming a market town are but distant. The manufacturing interests, such as carriage and sleigh making, blacksmith, cabinet, and carpenter work, shoemaking, and fanning mill factory, are the hope of the place at present. These, seconded by the enterprise of the merchants, and the general disposition of the people for advancement, give assurance that Florence is, and will continue to be, a place of importance and a necessary depot of convenience for the surrounding country.

It is the highest point on the whole line of road from Detroit to Quebec or Portland. The country around it, being land of first quality, is being rapidly cleared up, and several leading roads are now made to the village; so that there is now a large annual exportation of wheat, peas, staves, timber, &c.

OIL SPRINGS.

It will be impossible for us to do anything like justice to this important and rapidly rising village in the space that is at our disposal in a work such as this .-A proper estimate of this interesting locality, and its importance to the surrounding country and province at large, would be amply sufficient for a respectable volume in itself; we shall therefore be obliged to follow our usual practice of treating villages in general, merely giving their rise, progress, and present standing.

The discovery of petroleum, on the flats of what is called the Black Creek. dates as far back as 1840. It was then in connection with the clay sought and used by Indians for medicinal purposes, and subsequently it was gathered by the settlers for oiling wagon wheels, threshing machines, and such like. the year 1858 it was tested as a burning oil, and found to possess all the qualities of the real Pennsylvania petroleum. As soon as this fact was ascertained, a number of American speculators made their appearance, and purchased several tracts in the most promising part of the district, which they surveyed into small lots, and let out on shares to adventurers on a small scale. Soon the surrounding country was completely taken by the "oil fever," and in a few months hundreds made their way through the very worst of roads-or, more properly speaking, no road at all-to the oily region, on the 2nd concession of the township of Enniskillen. The oil was first obtained from surface wells, sunk to the depth of from twenty to forty feet, and brought to the surface by hand pumps Subsequently a successful attempt was made on the rock, and oil of a better quality was obtained at different depths Varying from 65 to 180 feet.

The oil was first brought out to Wyoming on what was called mud-boats, a began to fail, it suddenly rose to higher small, flat-bottomed kind of scow, about Prices than it ever had realized before, 32 inches wide and 48 long, capable of till, during the past winter, it ranged carrying two barrels of oil-if the team from six to seven dollars per barrel was strong enough to haul it. These This lasted but for a short time, for modest-looking vehicles, in two or three scores of drillers, having found the rock being generally full of water, considerably reduced the weight of draft.

In the fall of 1861 the plank road from Wyoming to the Oil Springs was commenced, and early in the year 1863 it was completed. In the same year a telegraph office was established, and since then a daily mail. Early in the year '62 the Oil Springs Chronicle, a weekly paper, devoted to the oil interests, was established by Messrs. Hudson & Solis. It has since fallen into the hands of Messrs. Hudson & Evans. In the summer of 1863 the plank road to Sarnia was commenced, and is now in process of completion. A great impetus given to all kinds of business about the beginning of 1862, by the tapping of the celebrated "SHAW WELL." This occurred about the 19th of January. proprietor, John Shaw, had laboured for months at the drill without any extraordinary sign of oil, when all at once he was surprised by a breaking through of what appeared to be the bottom of the rock, and immediately followed a copious flow of oil, which soon filled the surface well, and overflowed the land for acres around. So great was the force which propelled it vertically, that when pipes were adjusted, the oil was forced some 50 feet above the surface of the creek. The well continued to flow at this rapid rate till December of the same year, during which time 28,200 barrels of oil were saved, and the amount wasted will, of course, never be known-probably half as much would be an approximate estimate. -Several other flowing wells were struck afterwards. Some of them yield more copiously for a time but none continued so long, nor yield anything like the same amount, as Shaw's, Immediately after the discovery of these wells, oil became a perfect drug in the market. In the summer of 1862 it was sold as low as ten cents per barrel, but as soon as the flowing wells trips, ploughed a sort of canal, which, so precarious in its supplies, returned to the first method of obtaining surface oil |Condon Thomas D, oil refiner This is now considered a surer mark and much less expensive. It has also had a tendency to regulate the price; so that from two to three dollars is now about the range.

And what wonder, if, during the same year, their whole wealth was worth by the barrel ten cents at one time, and in a few months six and Leavens G N, clerk seven dollars? Such have been the vicissitudes attending the speculations in oil. Other branches of business have prospered steadily in the place. Hotels and boarding-houses have made small fortunes, while merchants, mechanics, labourers, and teamsters have had what McDonald David, oil refiner might be called first-rate times. PETROLIA.

This is a small oil locality, on the flats of the Boar Creek, between the 10th and 11th concessions of Enniskillen, and about half-a-mile west of the Wyoming and Oil Springs plank road. This is not, properly speaking, a village, but merely a settlement of a few families. engaged entirely in the oil business. The petroleum refinery is said to be the best in the county. It is owned by a Boston company. The yield of surface oil in this place was at first very good, but latterly there has been a considerable falling off. There is one flowing well that yields copiously in oil and water-of the former about ten barrels per day. This well is owned by Messrs. Lang & Co. Mr. S. J. Lancaster also had a flowing well that yielded about three barrels per day for a time; but the piping got deranged, and the flow has ceased. The rock wells have not succeeded well in this locality so fur. but this is no reason that they may not when thoroughly tested. Indeed, Petrolia can only yet be regarded as a proof that oil is to be found on the banks of the Bear Creek as well as on the celebrated Black Creek, and that when it is shoroughly developed, it will contribut, commodation afforded by this arrange, largely to the wealth and importance of this part of the country.

PJINT EDWARD.

The last station and western terminus of the G. T. R. in Canada, situated on a point of land at the foot of Lake Huron, which, with the Sarnia Bay, constitutes the peninsula that has for nearly forty years borne the name of Point Edward. It was used as a military station till the construction of the Grand Trunk Rallway, when the company purchased it for station purposes. They have erected an extensive depot on this point. A commodious brick station, two storeys high; a brick engine house, a very large frame freight house, a grain elevator. extensive docks and barrel sheds, and several brick dwelling-houses for the employees constitute the property of the company at this important station. The Grand Trunk steam ferry St. Clair plies between this point and Fort Gratlot, on the Michigan shore, the river being always open at this place. The company also keep a stage running from Point Edward to Sarnia on the arrival of the trains, a distance of two miles. The acment is very bad indeed, and the complaints made by travellers on this account have a great tendency to militate against the interests of the company. A remedy has been proposed, by building a branch road from the point into the town, which would be less than two miles long, on a level track; and as the right of way has been granted by the people, it is hoped the company will have the track laid during the approaching summer. A daily line of steamers from Chicago connect with the trains for Buffalo, Montreal, and Portland.

SARNIA.

The county town, situated at the head of the river St. Clair, and directly opposite the city of Port Huron, in the State cof-Michigan, with which it is hourly reconnected by a steam ferry. Distant from London, 60 miles; from Goderich, 60 miles; from Chatham, in the county of Kent, 60 miles; and from the city of Detroit, Mich., 60 miles. It is the terminus of the Grand Trunk and Sarnia branch of the Great Western Railway, which have both extensive depots in this place (see Point Edward, on . p. 99). Sarna was laid out as a town, in the year 1833, by the Hon. M. Cameron, at least that part of it south of George and north of Cromwell streets, consisting of 100 acres. The part on the north, 200 acres, constituted the Vidul estate, and was not laid out in town lots till a much later period. It was Mr. Cameron's design to call the place Port Glasgow, but at a meeting of the villagers the name of Sarnia was chosen. Mr. Cameron was very assiduous in promoting the settlement of the place, and liberal in assisting those who were disposed to engage in business. Many of those who have figured prominently in business owe their ability to make the first start to his liberality.

Sarnia was for many years noted for the sobriety and morality of its inhabitants, during which time its liberality to the Bible Society, Missionary Society, and the Temperance Reformation, was often noticed by visitors from a distance, This happy state of affairs continued to prevail till about the time that the G. W. R. was constructed, when, owing to the large increase in the population and the mixed character of the newcomers, the old status of society was not Since that time, Sarnia so observable. cannot claim to be exempted from those occasional developments of depravity and crime that characterize the police records of larger cities, Still, there is a large influence for good maintained. There are six churches, one grantmar school, one central, or district school, with three teachers; a juvenilo school, and several private and select schools, of which the principal is that kept by Miss Hennessy, for instruction in Latin, French, and music. There is also a flourishing lodge of the I.O. of G. T's and a branch of the Canadian Alliance. The public Temperance buildings of Sarnia are the jail, courthouse, union school, town-hall, and It has one of the best market. harbours in Canada, and being so near the lake, it often affords shelter for vessels that are driven by stress of weather to seek its shelter. ho besidia

The commercial interests of Sarnia are not as well developed as might be expected, considering her natural advantages. There are two cabinet factories, but both do a considerable importing business. Other branches of business are crippled in the same way. As soon as this state of things is remedied, and capitalists can be induced to invest in manufactures, Sarnia will take the place for which by nature she is well calculated to occupy, as one of the first commercial towns in Canada. Population about 2,800.

SOMBRA,

A village on the river St. Clair, 18 miles below Sarnia, and nearly opposite the village of Newport, in the State of Michigan. It has a population of about 200, two very good stores, and several mechanic shops; two churches, two resident ministers, a good school-house, two hotels, a daily mail, and a steam ferry, the Scagull, Capt. J. Gordon, connects it with the village of Newport, in Mich.

Sombra and vicinity form a very extensive wood market. Several docks are largely used in the locality by the river steamers. James Dawson, Esq., resides in the village, and deals largely in wood and timber both in Sombra and Dawn. Mr. James Clark and Mr. O'Regan, merchants, also afford facililities for the farmers in the same business. This village has progressed but slowly for the past twenty years. The land in that part of the township having been rather slow in settling, the wants for a town have not been pressing, Sombra village appears to have answered the demand. It will, of course, rise with the adjacent country.

THEDFORD,

WIDDER STATION.

A village on the G. T. R., 31 miles from Sarnia, and the last on that line in the county. It is about three miles west of the bridge over the Riviere aux Sables, and contains a population of about 2%. The town hall of Bosanquet townchip is in this village, and is used as a court-house for the 6th Division Court.

There are four stores, two hotels, and several mechanics' slipps. The principal business dono is in whoat, staves, and thuber. The amount of square timless alipped at this station in 1813, and January and February of 1831, was 21),000 feet; staves, 310,000; and 149,000 bushels of grain; besides about 101,000 feet of sawa timber. This shows that The Rord, or, Widder Station, is a very important depot to the surrounling country. All the trains on the line, exept the Ballalo Express, stop here.

WARWICK.

This is the oldest village in the county and, till the completion of the railway, it was one of the most important. Situated on the travelled road from London to Sarnia, about 35 miles from the former, and 25 from the latter, it was a convenient resting place for the large westward travel for many years. Being in the centre of a fine agricultural district, it was always looked upon as promising in prospective. This being the case, the landholders fell into the mistake that has hindered the progress of nearly all the villages in the countythat of keeping up the price of land. So that, with all its advantages, Warwick has made but little progress in attaining the dimensions of a towa, and is, perhaps, not entitled to rank higher than a third-class village. Still, "hope, thut comes to all," comes to Warwick, and many of the inhabitants look forward to the time that their village will afford a station on a line of railway, connecting Watford on the G. W. R. with Forest on the G. T. R., said railway to extend either way to the lakes.

At present Warwick consists, in part, of four stores, a farming implement fac-A station on the Sarnia branch of the tory, a wagon shop, three blacksmiths' 6. This is the last station in the county on the G. W. R. R., 27 miles from Sarnia, and 33 miles from London, has a population of 250, and is yearly increasing. It is the principal station for market for the townships of Warwick, Brooke, and in part for the Arkona neighborhood. Larger quantities of timber, staves and wheat are shipped at this station than any other on this line, Strathroy excepted.

超过温度 A village one mile south of Thedford, and five miles north of Arkona village. It is situated on an elevated tract of land, and was formerly called PINE Hugh. There is a steam grist and saw mill in the village, and two adjacent saw mills, driven by water power; three stores, two wagon shops, two blacksmith shops, two boot and shoe makers, one harness shop, and Several carpenters; two charches-the Presbyterian, under the charge of the Rev. Mr-Goodfellow, and the Primitive Methodist, with the Rev. T. Augurs superintendent. There are two schools in the neighborhood of the village. The rivalry be- pulation about 500.

tween this village and Thedford has been growing for years, the latter having the enormous advantage of being a shipping port, and the former claiming censideration on account of her mills and mechanical establishments. Widder is on the leading road between Arkona and Port Frank, and does a considerable business in the shingle trade, Population about 200.

WILKESPORT

Is situated on the north branch of the Sydenham river, near the head of navigation, the river being only navigable for small seows for two or three miles above. It is nearly in the centre of the township of Sombra. Distant from Wallaceburgh, in the county of Kent, 14 miles; from Chatham, 39 miles; from Sarnia, 25 miles; and from the celebrated Oil Springs, 14 miles. Mails semi-weekly.

Is a flourishing village, situated near the centre of the county, on the Sarnia branch of the G. W. R. R., surrounded by an excellent farming country, and deriving great benefit from the large amount of oil produced at Oil Springs and Petrolia, and shipped from Wyoming. There have been, since the discovery of the oil, about 40,000 bbls. shipped annually from this station, about three-fourths in the crude state, and one-fourth refined. This village contains three general stores, one drug store, four hotels, two wagon shops, three blacksmiths' shops, one foundry and machine shop, six cooper shops, two carpenter shops, three shoeshops, two tailors' shops, one saddle and harness shop, two livery stables, one lumber yard, one tin shop, five oil refineries, one turning and cabinet shop, and two churches. Two lines of stages run daily to Oil Springs, over a good plank road, a distance of 12 miles. Distant from Surnia 15 miles, and from London 45. PoAikman C M, physician, surgeon, &c

DAWN MILLS.

This village is pleasantly situated on the south side of the river Sydenham. in the Gore of Camden, county of Kent, in the centre of a fine agricultural country. It is four miles east from Dresden, and 16 miles north-easterly from Chatham. The mills from which it takes its name were built in 1832 by the late William Taylor, Esq. They have been twice rebuilt, and are now owned by Mr. David Arnold, and consist of a saw and grist mill. There is also a carding and fulling mill near the village, owned by James Smith, Esq. The town hall for the corporation of Camden is in the village. It is a substantial brick buildlng. 40 × 30. There is a Weslevan Methodist church, and preparations are being made for building an Episcopal Church The building will be of next summer. brick. There is a new and commodious school-house about half a mile from the village, on the north side of the river, across which there is an excellent and substantial bridge. There is a daily mail from Newbury, and a tri-weekly mail from Chatham. Mr. Watson is the leading merchant in the village. There are several machine shops, two taverns, and one first-class hotel-the Fullarton House—James Fullarton, manager. This hotel has been recently built on a large and commodious scale, with ample accommodation.

DRESDEN.

For twenty years Dresden has been struggling into existence; and even now, after the lapse of so many years, it is but Just beginning to move in the right direction. During the past year more has been done towards building it up foquitable policy seems to have been and giving character to it in the community than in any provious year; and taking this as a criterion, we are safe in the increase, and in a flourishing and Predicting a rapid and permanent growth prospersus condition. The old line of or the future.

Twenty years ago scarce half a dozen rude houses, most of them built of unhown logs, marked the site of the present thriving town, and the place was only known throughout the country us a very pleasant spot for holding campmeetings. It is not to be wondered at that the town was not characterized with the mushroom growth of many another place when it is remembered that the old pioneers, among whom stand most conspicuous William Vanallen, Peter Windover, and the late William Wright never dreamed, or at least never place-1 among their calculations, the probability of its ever being anything more than a fourth-class country village, Until very recently, the real advantages which it possesses to make it the first town on the Sydenham river seem to have been totally ignored, or at least but poorly appreciated. Now, however, its citizens seem to be awaking from their Rip Van Winkle slumber, and seem bent on improving to the uttermost the many advantages they have but just discovered they enjoy.

Situated at the head of navigation, on the east branch of the river Sydenham. and surronded by a rapidly improving and excellent agricultural country, nothing is lacking but capital and enterprise to place it in the front rank of western towns. Of easy access to the Great Western R. R., and approachable by vessels of heavy tonnage, it possessor commercial facilities of which few towns can boast.

The illiberal policy of its merchants informer years operated as a barrier to the steadily increasing stream of trade which, under better management, would naturally have flown into it; but within the past few years a more liberal and adopted, and, as a consequence, trade, as well as all branches of industry, is on theoretiants have all stopped einenforcemt been swept away, to give room for men of more enlarged ideas and fruer conceptions of business. Foremost among those who are identified with the prosperity of the town stands the late factoried George M. Webster, and the most prominent merchants now carrying on business are Mosses. Watson & Co., P. A. Kitchen, John H. Johnst m, and last, though not least in enterprise and liberality, Mrs. M. E. Webster.

Some idea of the business of the place can be formed from the exports of the past summer, which, at a low estimate, were 250,000 staves, 50,000 cords of wood, 50,000 feet of square timber, 100,000 feet of lumber, and 20,000 bushels of wheat and other grain. The annual business of the stores in the aggregate will fall but little short of $100,000. P. A. Kitchen states his annual business to be not less than $25,000,

The mechanics are numerous and skilful, the most prominent of whom are Messrs. Hart and Trerice, carriage and wagon makers, and T. F. Smith, harness maker. There are two steam saw mills in the place, that owned by the enterprising Messrs. Craig, turn out yearly a large quantity of shipping lumber. There is also a steam grist mill, owned by Messrs. Howard and Wright.

There is but one respectable hotel in this place, the Dresden House, kept by the obliging J. Watson.

Four churches are already completed and in use-two Episcopal Methodist, one Congregational, and one Baptistand the Episcopalians intend erecting a large and commodious brick church the There is also a temcoming summer. ple of the B. A. O. of G. T., in excellent standing, and powerful in numbers and influence. The members of the temple and the friends of the temperance cause in the town and vicinity are about buildingabeautiful brick hall. A brick schoolhouse is also to be among the number of public edifices creeted during the present year.

The general healthiness of the town is such that almost every physician who has taken up his residence here has been swept away, to give room for men been starved out for want of practice.—

The only resident physician at present is Dr. S. B. Clark, an urbane and skilful there who are identified with the prospection.

One great hindrance to the present growth of the town is the extravagant prices which are asked for building lots, and the large quantity of the most desirable ones which have unfortunately fallen into the hands of speculators. But There seems to be an influence abroad among the people that promies to overide all hindrances, and which augurs well for the future growth and prosperty of the ambitious little city.

WALLACEBURGH.

A village at the forks of the Sydenham river, which to this point is navigable for the largest vessels, in the County of Kent, containing a population of nearly a thousand. It is located near the spot chosen by Lord Selkirk, for the first settlement in the western part of Upper Canada. The land on the south and east, is of a sand loam, to the north and west, marshy. The good land has been well timbered with oak and elm. Several large vessels have been built at this port, and the commercial advantages of its harbor has greatly augmented the importance of Wallaceburgh. Large quantities of timber, staves, lumber, cordwood and wheat, are annually exported. The farming interests about Wallaceburgh, have been on the decline for some time past. The present occupants of the land, appear to have lost a great part of the energy and perseverence that characterized the efforts of the early settlers. Large fields of wheat and herds of well bred stock, that formerly spoke of progress and enterprise are now a rare occurrence, and the agricultural exports are less now than they were many years ago. This may perhaps be owing in part to the light nature of the soil, which without proper treatment would soon become exhausted, but probably much is attributed to the disposition of the people to other pursuits, rather than agricultural. The people in Wallaceburgh are enterprising in business, social with each other and noted for their hospitality to strangers. Wallaceburg has a large town hall, a grammar school and several churches. The table on page 114 shows the imports and exports of the port, for the years 1862 and 1863,
